Faculty Development Seminars

Take advantage of the Faculty Development programs offered in the College of Medicine. All faculty are invited. New and junior faculty may find these sessions of particular interest in career planning and preparation. Topics were selected based on feedback from surveys and from evaluations of programs offered in prior years. This academic year, the Professional Development and Educational Development Seminars will be offered at 5:00pm (except for the Sept 18 Faculty as Teachers session) to better accommodate faculty schedules. All sessions are in C2-33 except as indicated (EPIC on Sept 10). Faculty who participate in at least 8 Educational Development sessions over a 2 year period are awarded an Educational Development Certificate. All sessions will be recorded with links posted to the Faculty Affairs website in case you are unable to attend in person.

Hospitality and Service Training Update

Training to implement the Hospitality and Service Standards of Behavior continues. Make every effort to participate when you are invited. We believe everyone can contribute and everyone can make a difference.

How do you function as a team member? Do you respect everyone you work with – through your dialogue and actions? Do you offer your support and assistance – to prevent colleagues from failing? Do you acknowledge appropriate behavior and report inappropriate behavior?

Remember, hospitality is not just about treating our patients well, it's treating each other well.

Faculty Honors

Congratulations to Dr. Donna Parker (Pediatrics) and Dr. Deepa Borde (Medicine) who were inducted into the Chapman Chapter of the Gold Humanism Honor Society (Chapman Society) of the College of Medicine in April 2014. Dr. Parker also received the Leonard Tow Humanism in Medicine Award, sponsored by the Arnold P. Gold Foundation.

Applicants Sought – Sloan Research Fellowships

This year the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation will award $50,000 fellowship to each of 216 early-career scientists for use in their research. Nominated by department chairs, senior researchers, and other leaders in the scientific community, the Sloan Research Fellows represent the next generation of top scholars in the sciences, economics, and mathematics.

Funds from the Sloan Research Fellowships are awarded directly to the fellow's institution and may be used over a two-year period for any activity supportive of the fellow's research, including equipment, technical assistance, professional travel, or trainee support.

The Sloan Research Fellowships seek to stimulate fundamental research by early-career scientists and scholars of outstanding promise. These two-year fellowships are awarded yearly to 126 researchers in recognition of distinguished performance and a unique potential to make substantial contributions to their field.

- Candidates must hold a tenure track (or equivalent) position at a college, university, or other degree-granting institution in the United States or Canada. Tenure track faculty positions at the candidate's institution must include a yearly teaching requirement.
- Candidates must hold a Ph.D. (or equivalent) in chemistry, computational or evolutionary molecular biology, computer science, economics, mathematics, neuroscience, ocean sciences, physics, or a related field;
- Candidates' most recent Ph.D. (or equivalent) must have been awarded on or after September 1, 2008. Exceptions may apply.

All nomination materials, including nomination letters and all letters of support, must be submitted online no later than 11:59PM EDT, September 15, 2014.
