Your OMBUDS- Confidential Resource for Faculty

The Office of the Ombuds for Faculty provides a confidential environment in which faculty can receive informal, impartial and independent assistance for conflict resolution. The Ombuds may also offer assistance to faculty seeking information on university conflict resolution processes.

The role of the Ombuds is to offer an impartial perspective in informal resolution procedures. The Ombuds does not advocate for an individual or the institution nor attempt to mediate a dispute. The Ombuds does not replace the institution's existing processes and resources for formal conflict resolution.

Data Cleaning with OpenRefine

Tuesday, March 30, 12-1pm

OpenRefine (formerly Google Refine) is a powerful free and open-source tool for data cleaning, enabling you to correct errors in the data, and make sure that the values and formatting are consistent. In addition, OpenRefine records your processing steps, enabling you to apply the same cleaning procedure to other data, and enhancing the reproducibility of your analysis. This workshop will teach you to use OpenRefine to clean and format data and automatically track any changes that you make.

How to Write a Publishable Case Report with CARE

Friday, April 30, 12-1pm

This workshop will cover the reporting standard for case reports, CARE, which provides a checklist of items to include when reporting clinical cases. We will also discuss additional useful resources, such as journals that publish case reports. We will focus on using the CARE reporting standard as a blueprint to make writing the manuscript a clear-cut and attainable task. In addition, attendees can sign up to be part of a peer-writing group if they choose.

Part of the Good Reporting Practices (GRPs) Series

REMOVING THE "MAN-CAN'T" MYTH

Webinar • April 13, 2021 • 12-1 p.m. EST

Moms and dads have been struggling during the COVID-19 pandemic, experiencing equal amounts of stress, despite stereotypes. Dads today are "all in" and more emotionally and physically involved at home than ever before. Josh Levs, an expert on modern dads in the workplace, will share how men can engage on issues of gender equality and diversity, how they can become co-champions for change, and strategies to offer work-life balance for both women and men.
